Police and Crime Plan (PCP) Project

The Panel discussed the detail of the model that it is developing. The aim of the model is to provide a prompt to address ethical and value issues in the PCP or associated planning processes. Comments by James Bottomley and Commander Paul Betts were of value in endeavouring to ensure that the model was intelligible and could work in practice.

It was agreed that the topic of Violence Against Women and Girls would be used to test the model and finalise its contents.

Work Plan

The Panel is required to develop an annual work plan. Members had an initial discussion about identifying the topics it may wish to consider next. In the process of developing the work plan, the Chair would be discussing potential topics with the Mayor's Office for Policing and Crime and the MPS.

The Panel's next meeting will be on 12 July 2021.
